Oxnard Plain Groundwater Users Group

YOU ARE INVITED

United Water Conservation District (UWCD) and Pleasant Valley County Water District (PVCWD) are forming the Oxnard Plain Users Group to provide a forum for stakeholder participation in groundwater management decisions. The Users Group will consider and discuss goals and policies for groundwater resource sustainability and discuss multiple strategies that can be implemented to protect our vital groundwater resources. Ultimately, after identifying the issues facing this groundwater basin, the group will develop a basin-specific groundwater management plan for the long-term protection of the local groundwater resource.

Your participation in the Oxnard Plain User's Group is encouraged. The alternative of not having a long-term plan is the very likely loss of local control over groundwater management decisions that may affect your business. Groundwater management decisions made with the participation of stakeholders will help ensure that basin management actions make sense for the local users. At this initial meeting you can expect to learn more about the water quality and basin overdraft concerns, Users Group goals, and how your participation will influence basin planning.
